TALKING HEALTH

Yashoda Hospitals conducted South India's first International Sialendoscopy workshop in the city on Sunday

THIS one-day workshop, was organised by the department of ENT and Head and Neck Surgery of Yashoda Hospitals, along with Association of Otolaryngology of India, AP and Hyderabad, and also along with academic collaboration of European Sialendoscopy Training Center, Geneva. "Sialendoscopy is one of the most fascinating advancements introduced in the last few years in the field of ENT, head and neck surgery. The aim of this workshop was to introduce Sialendoscopy to the beginners in order to keep them abreast about new technologies in Otolaryngology," said Dr G S Rao, managing director, Yashoda Hospitals. "Approximately one in 10,000 people suffer from salivary gland related pathologies.

With Sialendoscopy, all these issues can be addressed with more precision, which will lead to quick results," said Dr D S Deenadayal, senior consultant, HOD, Department of ENT and Head and Neck Surgery.

He further added, "It is a promising new method for the diagnosis and treatment of most inflammatory conditions of major salivary glands and hence prevents salivary gland excisions."
